The number of accepted spins to be flipped divided by the total possible. The 20 x 20 spin matrix was initialised with random orientations